Think of Others

As you prepare your breakfast, think of others
(do not forget the pigeon's food).

As you pay your water bill, think of others
(those who are nursed by clouds).

As you return home, to your home, think of others
(do not forget the people of the camps).

As you conduct your wars, think of others
(do not forget those who seek peace).

As you liberate yourself in metaphor, think of others
(those who have lost the right to speak).

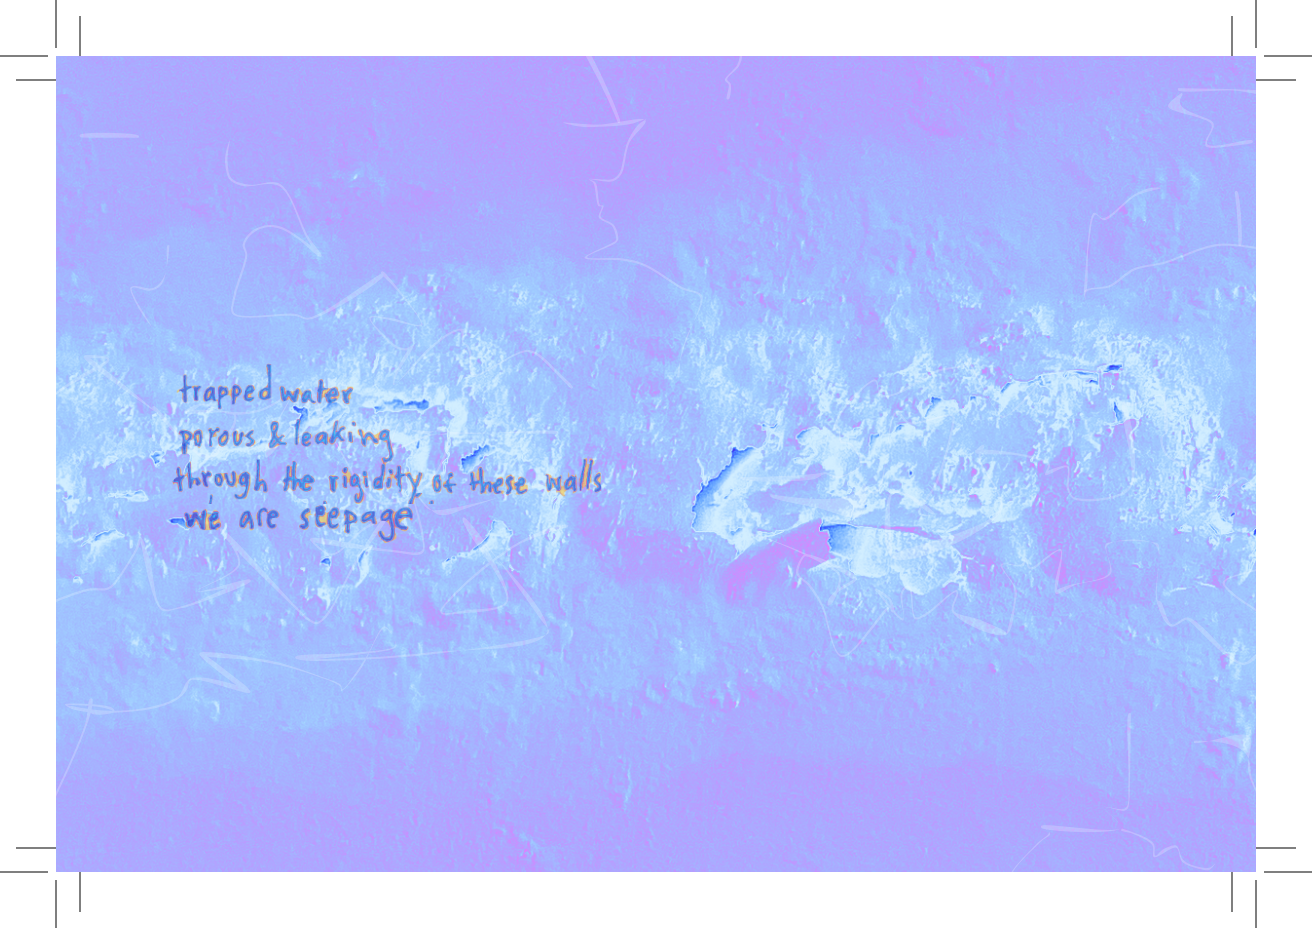

As you sleep and count the stars, think of others
(those who have nowhere to sleep).

As you think of others far away, think of yourself (say: "If only I were a candle in the dark").

for you to cease,
How many hearts must ache
for your mind's release?*
